WHERE WAS NASH?

arrived from Columbus at 6:05 Saturday morning, and went immediately to Hotel Buchtel. With Judge Nash are his stepdaughter, Mrs. Babcock, Columbus; Judge Caldwell, Cincinnati; H. M. Daugherty, Columbus; Albert Douglass, Chillicothe; H. D. Mannington, chief clerk in the office of Secretary of State; Col. Chas. Dick, chairman of the State Republican committee; W. D. Gilbert, State Auditor; Chas. Kinney, Secretary of State; A. D. Aldermann, of the State Executive committee, and Cyrus Huling, of the State Central committee.

All forenoon at the Buchtel Judge Nash received visitors, and had a pleasant word and handshake for all.

Speaking with a reporter for the DEMOCRAT, Judge Nash said: "I am glad that I have in my party Mr. H. M. Daugherty of Columbus, and Mr. Albert Douglass of Chillicothe, who were my rivals at the State convention. The party workers and the voters are loyal to me, and I have no doubt but that I will win with a handsome majority."

Referring to the appearance of Akron today, Judge Nash said: "I think the city is decorated beautifully, and I am particularly gratified with the manifestation of friendship that I have received from the crowds."

CALLED

At Buchtel Hotel to Shake Hands With Roosevelt.

Many people called at the Buchtel to shake hands with Gov. Roosevelt, but as he had only a short time to eat dinner and prepare for the parade, he, of course, could not accede to their wishes as much as he would have liked.

FINE SPREAD

For the Visiting Newspaper Men at Elks' Club.

At noon dinner was served to the visiting newspaper men at the Elks' banquet hall. An elaborate spread had been prepared. At 12:20 Judge Nash entered the hall and was escorted to a seat at one of the tables. He was warmly welcomed. He remained but a few minutes, it being announced that he was called to the Erie depot to meet the Columbus delegation.

WHAT HANNA SAID.

"Sorry for the Democrats—We're Going to Defeat Them."

Mark Hanna, as he shook hands with the reporter for the DEMOCRAT, said: "Well, I'm sorry for the Democrats. We're going to defeat them badly."

Headed by the Young Republicans' club the parade started from Union station for the Buchtel hotel, where Gov. Roosevelt and Mark Hanna are stopping. Following the Young Republicans' club was the Great Western band of Cleveland, heading the Tippecanoe club of Cleveland. Following the Tippecanoe club came the mounted escort. Following the escort was the Eighth Regiment band and then came Gov. Roosevelt and others.

All along the line of march Gov. Roosevelt was cheered by the crowds. He had greetings for all, and was very grateful for the reception he received.

Delegations Arrive.

The Guernsey county delegation arrived at 12:15, about 500 strong, people from Concord, Zanesville and other points accompanied the crowd. James R. Barr, a prominent politician was among the arrivals.

At 11:15 the Raisinplitters of Toledo arrived over the Northern Ohio. They were led by the Marine band of that place. Among the prominent men were Congressman Southward, W. H. Swain collector of internal revenue, Geo. P. Waldorf, C. H. Master.

A large delegation from Pittsburg and Youngstown arrived over the Valley at 9:20. Col. W. C. Haskell, scaler of weights and measures, was among the arrivals.

Medina, Plymouth and Huron delegations arrived at 10:10 over the Northern Ohio, about 250 people and eight coaches.

Ale Rough on Rats.

James Donovan Jr., the 19-months old child of James Donovan, formerly of this city, found a box of rough-on-rats at Cuyahoga Falls. He ate heartily of the poison. In a few minutes he was seized with cramps. Dr. Hough was called and succeeded in bringing him around all right.

BUSINESS

Of Herrick & Son Will be Increased.

Company Incorporated With Paid Up Capital Stock of $50,000.

The Herrick & Sons company has been incorporated with a paid up capital stock of $50,000, for the purpose of continuing and extending the business heretofore conducted by Herrick & Son, 152-154 S. Main st.

The following officers have been elected to assume the management of the new corporation:

President, B. C. Herrick; vice president, Hon. C. W. F. Dick; secretary, C. I. Bruner; treasurer, O. C. Herrick.

The directors are B. C. Herrick, O. C. Herrick, A. L. Lewis, V. M. Herrick and C. I. Bruner.

The firm of Herrick & Cannon was established thirty-two years ago and has always been the leading house in this city in china, crockery, lamps, etc. Since the retirement of W. B. Cannon, about nine years ago, the business has been continued by Herrick & Son up to the present time.

In their wholesale department, they employ six traveling salesmen, who solicit business in the principal cities of Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and New York, and some of the western states. For many years Herrick & Son have made a specialty of representing factories in their line of trade and selling their goods direct to the retail dealers.

This enterprising firm have a modern, up-to-date store full of attractive goods, the china being imported direct from the potteries of France and Germany, the porcelains from England and fine glassware from Bohemia. Their stock of fine china, lamps, cut glass and novelties is not equaled outside the largest cities, and with the thorough knowledge of the business of Mr. B. C. Herrick and his two sons, and the additional capital and push of the new members, they fully expect to double their business this coming year.

The new company starts out under most favorable conditions, and will keep pace with Akron's most prominent industries.

CHARGED

With Complicity In a Diamond Robbery.

Alleged to Have Taken Ring From Finger of Susan Beatty.

Detectives Dorn, DeCelle and Walker last night arrested Curtis Brown, who gave his business as that of a jeweler, and Mildred Austin, a saloonkeeper, of 300 Lake st., on the charge of complicity in a diamond robbery which occurred at Akron early Thursday morning, says the Leader. Brown is charged with burglary and larceny. The specific charge against him is that of stealing a $100 diamond ring, the property of Mrs. Mary Souers of Carroll st., Akron. Mildred Austin is charged with receiving stolen property.

The following dispatch in regard to the robbery was received from Akron:

"Mrs. Mary Souers and her children and Miss Susan Beatty live at No. 270 Carroll st. Wednesday night Miss Beatty was awakened by two masked burglars in her room. With revolvers pointed at her head they demanded money. She declared she had none, when one of the robbers took hold of her hand and removed a diamond ring valued at $100. After warning Miss Beatty to remain quiet the burglars went into another room occupied by Mrs. Mary Souers. They flashed their revolvers and commanded the woman to remain quiet. All that was secured in Mrs. Souers' room was a revolver. The two men then left."

Brown and the Austin woman were arrested in the Austin saloon. Both were seated in one of the parlors of the place when the detectives entered. They asked her if she had jewelry in her possession. She replied that she had about $1,500 worth of jewelry, and exhibited it to the detectives. They took possession of four solitaire rings and took them to the station. Two of the rings were later returned to her and the other two were held pending an investigation.

ODD FELLOWS GOING HOME

About 200 Odd Fellows from Western Pennsylvania went through this city over the Valley at 12:03. They attended the convention at Detroit.

THE POOR PROFESSOR.

He Really Needed a Shave, but Didn't Want to Be Told So.

The professor had not been shaved for four or five days owing to hard study on a little scientific problem. He came down from his room the other morning in this condition and, not having solved the problem, was not in a very pleasant frame of mind as he put on his coat and hat to go out.

"John, dear, aren't you going to shave before you go out?" asked his wife in a surprised tone.

The professor growled something about women minding their own business, slammed the door and was gone.

This was only a starter.

The professor had not gone two blocks before a barber, standing in the door of his shop, hailed him thus, "Shave, sir?" John had really intended stopping in the place; but, being warm under the collar already, this remark did not cool him off. So the barber lost a customer.

Further along the professor met a friend heading for a barber shop who asked John if he was going that way.

By this time the professor was mad, so mad, in fact, that he threatened to annihilate the next person who referred to his face in any way.

Continuing on down the street, he met his friend Jones. Jones, noticing the professor's dejected look, said as they neared a saloon: "Professor, you need a 'raiser.' Have one with me."

The professor, still thinking of his morning's adventures, thought Jones meant "razor." He was now hopping mad. This was the last insult he would stand. Slung off his coat, he made a rush at Jones. Five minutes later they were both hauled away in the patrol.—Pittsburg Press.

True Devotion.

"Miss Cayenne," said Willie Washington, "you are always laughing at me."

"That's very true. I'll try to quit, if it annoys you."

"It doesn't annoy me. I am content to sit perfectly silent and let you laugh at me ever since I heard you say there was nothing you were fonder of than something really funny."—Washington Star.
